BOTTOM LINE UP FRONT

A short, fair complaints procedure signals professionalism to installers (a trust-driven trade) and catches problems before they become churn or reputation damage. Acknowledge fast, resolve fairly, learn from it.

The procedure

Step	Action
1. Acknowledge	Respond within one business day; the customer knows they're heard
2. Understand	Get the full picture; don't defend reflexively
3. Resolve	Fix it fairly and promptly; involve RRUP if it's a product issue (Pack 14)
4. Follow up	Confirm the customer is satisfied
5. Learn	Log the complaint; feed patterns into product/process improvement

COMPLAINTS ARE RETENTION OPPORTUNITIES

In a tight-knit trade, how you handle a problem is remembered and talked about more than the problem itself. A well-handled complaint often produces a more loyal customer — and a referral — than one who never had an issue. Treat it as a retention and reputation tool, not a nuisance.

Implication

A basic complaints process is low-effort and high-value in a word-of-mouth market (Pack 07). It also surfaces product issues to raise with RRUP early.
