BOTTOM LINE UP FRONT

Recurring per-seat SaaS revenue from UK installers, sold through a lean, low-cost motion (free lead channel + free trial), delivered on a proven platform with founder-led onboarding, with revenue shared with RRUP per the (open) deal structure. Capital-light in, recurring revenue out.

The model on one page

Element	This venture
Create value	One proven system replacing installers' fragmented tools
Deliver value	Per-seat subscription + hands-on 30-day onboarding
Capture value	Recurring monthly revenue; per-seat expansion as customers grow
Cost to serve	Lean pod; free primary lead channel; gated spend
Share with RRUP	Per deal structure (equity split or commission — ? Pack 14)
Fund it	UK Start Up Loan; recurring revenue services repayment

WHY THE MODEL IS ATTRACTIVE

It combines low entry cost (proven product, free lead channel, loan funding) with compounding recurring revenue (per-seat SaaS that grows with retention and account expansion). That's a capital-efficient, resilient shape — the kind that survives a slow start and compounds a good one.

Implication

The model is deliberately capital-light and recurring — matching the lean funding (Pack 17) and the bounded-but-real market (Pack 03). The one variable that most changes its economics is the revenue share with RRUP (Pack 14/16).
