BOTTOM LINE UP FRONT

Localise a proven Polish installer-CRM (600+ deployments) into the UK's fast-growing, policy-backed renewables market via a lean, founder-led operation — winning the small-installer segment that incumbents Payaca and Reonic price past, funded by a UK Start Up Loan. The opportunity and product are real and verified; two things remain open and gate the rest: the deal structure and UK pricing.

The opportunity

- Market: 5,250+ MCS-certified UK installers; solar +31% record in 2025; +50% forecast for 2026; policy-backed (Boiler Upgrade Scheme, 0% solar VAT, 600k heat pumps/yr by 2028 target).
- Product: SalesOps CRM (RRUP sp. z o.o.) — proven at scale (15,000+ users, 600+ deployments), end-to-end installer workflow, per-seat pricing.
- Validation: Reonic (German, €13M-funded) is entering the same space — independent proof the thesis is investable.

The strategy

- Segment: scaling MCS solar/heat-pump installers, 10–50 staff — underserved by Payaca's £999+/mo flat pricing and Reonic's enterprise tilt.
- Wedge: proven platform + per-seat price + cross-vertical breadth + founder-led onboarding.
- Motion: free MCS-database outreach → tailored demo → free 30-day trial → conversion.
- Funding: UK Start Up Loan (£25–100k) — non-dilutive, fast, with mentoring.

The honest open items ?

TWO GATES + ONE FLAG

(1) Deal structure — equity JV vs commission/agency — unresolved and gates legal/funding/economics (Pack 14, Q1). (2) UK pricing — unset, gates the model (Pack 16, Q). Flag: a prior "Polsat" flagship-client claim is unverified and must not be used until the CEO confirms it (Pack 02, Q6).

The verdict

A defensible, fundable, capital-efficient venture — not speculative. The product is proven, the market real and growing, the entry lean and low-risk. Success depends on execution against a focused segment and on resolving the two open items with the CEO. The package that follows maps every aspect end-to-end and is built to update the moment those answers arrive.
