BOTTOM LINE UP FRONT

Once a week, step back: review the KPI dashboard, inspect the pipeline stage-by-stage, and fix the biggest bottleneck. The weekly review is where conversion problems get caught early — before they show up as a revenue miss a month later.

Weekly agenda

Item	Question
KPI review (Pack 10)	Are leading indicators on target?
Pipeline inspection	Where are deals stalling? (which stage gate?)
Bottleneck fix	What one change this week moves the most?
Trial health	Are active trials on track to convert by day 30? (Pack 12)
Forecast update	What's likely to close this month?

ONE BOTTLENECK AT A TIME

A lean team can't fix everything at once. The weekly review's discipline is to identify the single biggest constraint (usually a conversion ratio, Pack 10) and improve it, then re-check next week. Focused iteration beats scattered effort.

Implication

The weekly cadence connects daily activity (this Pack) to monthly outcomes and to the financial model's assumptions (Pack 16) — the loop that keeps the plan grounded in reality.
