Illustrative, from the Assumptions Register.

BOTTOM LINE UP FRONT

By Year 3, under base assumptions, the UK operation is a self-funding business — a retained customer base of a few hundred, a small team, and the option to pursue larger Tier-3 deals (Pack 09 SAP play). This is the point at which the venture has genuine enterprise value (relevant if the structure is equity — Pack 18).

Illustrative Year-3 shape (base)

Line	Illustrative	Note
Customers (cumulative, net)	~200–300	Compounding retained base + new
Revenue (your share)	~£350k–£400k	 base
Team	Small regional team	Pack 13
Net position	Profitable in base	Self-funding growth
Strategic optionality	Tier-3 SAP deals; national reach	Pack 06/09

WHAT YEAR 3 UNLOCKS

A profitable, self-funding operation with a few hundred retained customers is the basis for either (a) enterprise value in an equity structure, or (b) a substantial, durable commission income in an agency structure. Which of those you're building toward is the deal-structure question (Pack 14).

Dependency

Year 3 assumes Years 1–2 validated the motion and retention held. It is a destination the plan aims at, not a promise — and its value is showing the ceiling is worth the climb.

Implication

The three-year arc — prove, expand, scale — is coherent and, in the base case, reaches a genuinely valuable position. The bear case (Pack Scenario) still survives; the bull case funds faster expansion.
