BOTTOM LINE UP FRONT

Paid ads are a last, CAC-gated channel — switched on only after the message and funnel convert organically, and only if the cost-to-acquire clears a validated threshold. In a small, nameable market, paid is an amplifier of a proven motion, never the ignition.

When to turn paid on

Precondition	Why
Outbound message proven to convert	Don't pay to amplify a message that doesn't work
Funnel conversion rates measured (Pack 08)	Needed to compute a real CAC
A validated CAC threshold (Pack 16)	Only spend where LTV/CAC clears the bar

Where paid could fit

- LinkedIn — precise targeting by job title (MD/ops lead) and industry; expensive but on-ICP.
- Search — bidding on the high-intent comparison terms (SEO Strategy) for immediate capture.

GUARDRAIL

CAC in this niche is unknown until measured (Pack 16 Assumptions Register). Do not commit meaningful paid budget on assumed CAC. Run small, measured tests; scale only what demonstrably pays back within the target payback window (Pack 18 unit economics).

Implication

Paid ads sit at the bottom of the channel priority (Pack 07 Marketing Plan). Treating it as CAC-gated protects the loan-funded budget from the classic early-stage mistake of buying unprofitable growth.
